TIF Map Review

TIF Map Review

Local officials can now see maps that display parcel locations within TIF districts by utilizing the TIF Map Review found in the TIF Management area of the Indiana Gateway for Government Units (Gateway).

What is the TIF Map Review?

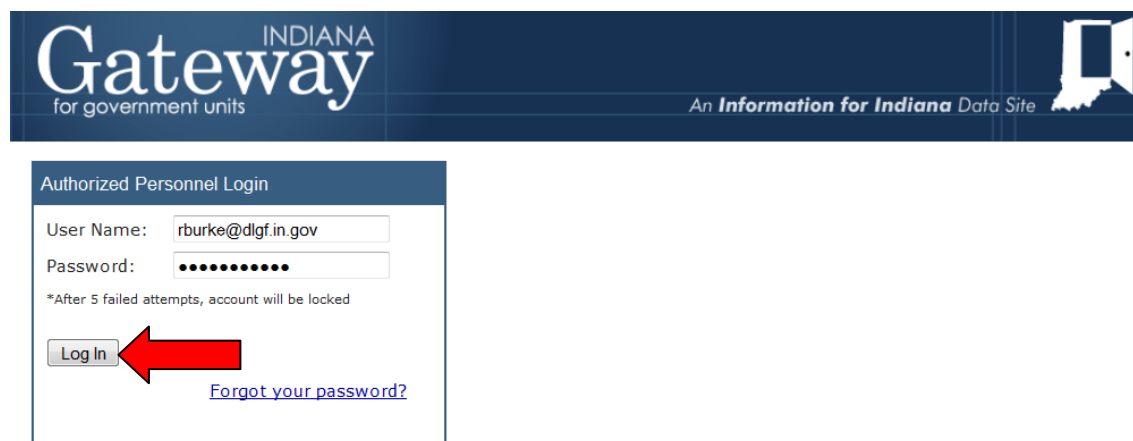

The TIF Map Review utilizes data supplied from the TIF Management Report, joined with Geographic Information System (GIS) data provided to the Indiana Business Research Center (IBRC), to render a geographic map of the parcel locations within a TIF district. Local officials will be able to visually acknowledge the locations and notify the Department if changes should be made to the map.

Note: Users are required to add a comment to any map marked inaccurate prior to marking the review as complete.

If an official indicates that a map is inaccurate, the application will require the user to enter a comment before marking the TIF Review complete. Reviewers may leave comments by clicking the Add/Edit button in the Comments column next to any map. The Add/Edit option will appear after a user has indicated that the map is either accurate or inaccurate.

Comments should be as complete as possible, with as much detail as possible, so the Department staff may review and address any issues that may arise. Once comments are complete, users may click the “Update/Save Comments” button to save comments for the Department.
